DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. Claims 4 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As to both claims 4 and 12, the recitation "a pair of reflection mirrors on either side of the prism" is unclear, since the figures show that the pair of reflection mirrors are disposed one of each side of the prism. Clarification/correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

5. Claims 1-3, and 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant admitted prior art (figure 7), and further in view of Welch et al (US 5,914,978).

As to claims 1,2, and 7-11, Applicant admitted prior art, figure 7, discloses a laser apparatus comprising of a laser oscillator, an f (theta) lens for converging the emitted laser light onto a workpiece, a galvanometer.

However, applicant admitted prior art fails to show a wavelength selector, including a diffraction grating, a polarizer, interposed between the laser oscillator and the f (theta) lens.

Welch et al disclose a wavelength selector, including a diffraction grating, polarizer, and light emitted through a prism (figure 23, figure 12) for the purpose of singling out a desired wavelength.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide a wavelength selector as taught by Welch et al, in Applicant's admitted prior art in order to achieve the desired wavelength.

Art Unit: 1725

As to claim 3, the limitation is a process limitation. However, the apparatus of Welch et al is capable of performing the claimed process of transmitting the laser a plurality of times through the prism.

6. Claim 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Applicant admitted prior art (figure 7), and further in view of Welch et al (US 5,914,978), in view of Scheps et al (US 5,528,612).

Applicant admitted prior art and Welch et al disclose the claimed invention above in paragraph 5, but fail to teach a prism being in between the two reflecting mirrors.

However, Scheps et al disclose a prism arranged in between two reflecting mirrors (figure 1) to provide a spatially separate path for each of the wavelengths and to determine the specific laser wavelengths produced simultaneously by the laser.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide a prism located between reflecting mirrors as taught by Scheps et al, in Applicant's admitted prior art and Welch et al in order to separate the wavelengths.

In addition, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time applicant's invention was made to provide a plurality of prism, since it has been held that mere duplication of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. St. Regis paper Co. v. Bemis Co., 193 USPQ 8.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claim 6 and 12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior arts of record fail to teach plurality of prisms disposed between a pair of opposed reflection mirrors and wherein the lasers are emitted through the prism a plurality of times using the reflection mirrors.
